

RadTech Europe: Your Partner in UV/EB Technology

Who are we?

RadTech Europe is the leading industry association for the UV/EB energy curing industry in Europe. We connect and empower players across the entire value chain, from raw material producers to formulators, equipment manufacturers, fabricators, printers, brand owners and universities. Our mission is to be a focal point for UV/EB technology, promoting its true value, functionality, sustainability, and safety.

What do we do?

- Connect: Join a vast network of industry experts and collaborate on focused committees and working groups. Network with key players at our events, like the renowned RadTech Europe Conference & Exhibition (discounted rates for members).
- Educate: Stay ahead of the curve with our extensive educational resources. Access our online knowledge base with papers, conference proceedings, and recordings, free webinars on the latest technologies and regulations, and the biennial international Conference and our online seminars (e.g. on food packaging, newly converted markets, UV LED, etc).
- Empower: Gain credibility and exposure. Participate in our video campaigns, get listed in our online member directory, and contribute to shaping the future of UV/EB technology through our dedicated working groups and regulatory advocacy.

Why should you join?

A RadTech Europe company membership benefits all professionals across your organization:

- Technical R&D and Applications Engineers: Access a network of experts, stay up-to-date on new technologies and applications through educational events and resources. Get involved in dedicated working groups (e.g. deinking, UV-LED) to discuss and influence up and down the supply chain for technology development to assist product development.
- Management: Gain insights on key trends, benefit from market intelligence and regulatory advocacy, and promote the sustainability efforts of your company.
- Purchasing Managers and Procurement: Find qualified suppliers through our network, stay informed of regulatory changes impacting your business.
- Marketing and Sales: Identify new business opportunities, network with potential customers and partners, and leverage the credibility of being part of a leading industry association.

Become a RadTech Europe member today and unlock a world of opportunity in UV/EB energy curing technology!